

Christmas in Their Eyes

It was Christmas Eve, and he had a special visit before the children went to bed

He combed his beard of white and donned his suit of white and red

With his bag full of presents he was going to visit children who were sick and in care

He even had gifts for all the doctors and the nurses who were working there

The children had just finished singing Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer

When with bells a jingling and some Ho Ho Ho's he said out loud "Santa is here"

Every child who had a received a present said
"Santa your visit was a really big surprise"

Now every Christmas eve he visits other children sick and in care because he sees Christmas in their eyes
